VICE PRESIDENT AND PRIME MINISTER AND RULER OF DUBAI
Welcome Message from the President

Welcome respected colleagues,

Welcome to Al Ain University!
As the academic year begins, I am pleased to welcome our new and returning faculty members and urge everyone to take a moment to reflect on our success. You can be rightly proud of the success you have been able to contribute to. Under current circumstances, we have prioritized both safety and quality of education regardless of prevailing challenges. While forecasting the possibilities ahead, we have been seeking to bring our mission to the frontiers by implementing high quality teaching standards, latest research studies, as well as effective community engagement activities.

Over the past decade, AAU has accomplished substantial progress to create an amiable, distinguished and productive learning environment in the United Arab Emirates. So far, five of our colleges have earned international accreditations, and continuous efforts are made for the remaining college to be on the same path. More programs are now available, enticing more students and qualified academics, and most importantly incorporate more strategic partnerships, such as hospitals, local and international educational institutions as well as various governmental and private institutions that best train and deliver workshops and seminars besides offering business ventures to our students, faculty and staff members.

We are also engaged in hosting international conferences that forefront the faculty’s scientific research projects and that of our students, local and international participants, and laboratory and IT technicians who are willing to self-develop themselves in the field of academia. This unique AAU learning environment has only surfaced out thanks to your teaching-learning dedication and quality research involvement that have been apparent to local and international communities.

We are living an era of continuous development and improvement where we all race against time to seek ways to professionally develop ourselves through attending and/or conducting international conferences, getting trained by experienced and qualified academics from all around the globe, and publishing papers in journals well recognized by the university and by the Ministry of Education. Furthermore, the community engagement interaction adds tremendously to your professional qualities, your colleagues and the students. This undoubtedly enhances one’s teaching skills through case studies, field trips and other extracurricular activities which in turn enhance our students’ mental, physical and critical abilities to prepare them for the real world after graduation.

Dear faculty members,
The pursuit of knowledge is an endless journey. In this complex world, striving for progress requires learning tirelessly in order to live up to the challenge of teaching students who join our community for an enriching college experience with a diverse social environment. University education is at the core of our students’ future success; therefore, we are not, merely their educators, but also their life mentors who help them overcome the potential challenges they may sooner or later encounter. Together, you and I, can make this happen! And I look forward to the year ahead.

With best wishes,

Prof. Ghaleb A. El-Refae
AAU President

INTRODUCTION

The United Arab Emirates (UAE) is a federation of seven emirates located in the south-eastern corner of the Arabian Peninsula. It is bordered by the Arabian Gulf to the north, Saudi Arabia to the south and west, and the Sultanate of Oman and the Gulf of Oman to the east. The Emirates gained independence in 1971. Its seven member states are Abu Dhabi, Ajman, Dubai, Al Fujairah, Ras al Khaymah, Ash-Shariqah, and Umm al Qaywayn with Abu Dhabi as its capital. The United Arab Emirates is important to world energy markets because it contains 98 billion barrels, or nearly 10%, of the world’s, proven oil reserves. The UAE also holds the world’s fifth-largest natural gas reserves and exports significant amounts of liquefied natural gas. The currency used within the country is the Dirham (AED) which has an exchanged rate of approximately (1 USD = 3.68 AED).

The Emirate of Abu Dhabi

Abu Dhabi occupies an area of 67339 sq. km (26,000 sq. mi.). Its long coastline - the shallow waters of the Southern Gulf, extending from the base of the Qatar Peninsula in the west to the border of the Emirate of Dubai on the north east - was once the world’s best waters for pearling. When the pearling industry declined, oil discovery in the offshore oil fields of the Southern Gulf revived the economy of Abu Dhabi. Abu Dhabi was also the first emirate to export oil from the Umm Shaif offshore field in 1962. The emirate extends south to the oasis of Liwa where some of the world’s largest sand dunes can be found, and east to the ancient oasis of Al Ain. This makes Abu Dhabi the largest as well as the most populated of all the emirates. The emirate adopts a wise forestry policy despite its harsh summer climate.

Abu Dhabi City

Abu Dhabi is one of the most modern cities in the world. It is the center of government and business life in the UAE. It is the headquarters of the emirates oil operating companies and embassies. The architecture of its modern buildings and skyscrapers is one of the finest in the Middle East. Abu Dhabi’s oil wealth has been wisely utilized to maintain a healthy trade and commerce atmosphere in addition to oil industry. Large gardens and parks, green boulevards lining all the streets and roads, sophisticated high-rise buildings, state-of-the-art communication services, the presence of all the international luxury hotel chains, rich shopping malls, cultural centers and events provide tourists a unique experience all year round.
Al Ain City

Al Ain is the main city in the Eastern Region. It is a fertile area rich in greenery with plenty of farms, public parks and important archaeological sites. Al Ain city is indeed the garden of the Gulf.
AL AIN UNIVERSITY

Overview

Established in 2004, Al Ain University (AAU) opened the doors to its first student cohort in 2005. Constantly innovating, AAU expanded its facilities by opening a second campus in Abu Dhabi in 2008, offering programs in Business and Law. Having begun with three colleges (Engineering, Business, Education, Humanities, and Social Sciences), the University has continued to expand its program offerings which now include 17 undergraduate programs across six colleges (Engineering, Pharmacy, Law, Education, Humanities, and Social Sciences, Business and Communication and Media), 8 Master’s programs, and 1 Professional Diploma in Teaching program.

AAU is licensed to operate under the auspices of the UAE Ministry of Education (MoE). AAU continues to successfully seek international accreditation of its programs by respected educational bodies. The College of Engineering programs (“B.Sc. in Networks & Communication Engineering”, “B.Sc in Computer Engineering” and “B.Sc. in Software Engineering”) are accredited by (ABET). The “Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy” program has the distinction of being the first in UAE to be certified by (ACPE). Moreover, the “Bachelor of Law” has been accredited by (HCERES). The College of Education, Humanities & Social Sciences has been granted CAEP Accreditation for two academic programs: Postgraduate Professional Diploma in Teaching and Bachelor of Education in Special Education. In addition, the College of Business accredited by the (AACSB), and the “Bachelor of Mass Communication and Media” program has been accredited by (AQAS).

AAU Vision

AAU aspires to be amongst the leading learning institutions in the region, by achieving international quality standards in Teaching, Research, and Community Engagement.

AAU Mission

AAU strives to be a learning institution of excellence that responds to market needs and prepares graduates who possess the scientific and technological competencies that are needed for their careers. The university plays an active role in the creation of knowledge through quality teaching and research. It values Community Engagement and nurtures partnerships with institutions and organizations through a commitment to the educational, technological, and economic development of the country and the region.

AAU Values

The strategic decisions and daily operations of AAU faculty and staff draw on the following values:

1. Collaboration
2. Diversity
3. Excellence
4. Integrity
5. Sustainability

VII. Organize professional development activities for the instructors to make sure that the faculty is abreast with the latest knowledge, tools and technologies that are part of the course.
Al Ain University

Organizational Chart
(2) DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF FACULTY MEMBERS

The different duties that a faculty member is expected to perform are classified under the following categories:

I. Teaching.
II. Research.
III. Service to the University and Community Engagement.

In addition to these general areas of activity, the faculty member is expected to:

I. participate actively in assessment procedures;
II. carry out administrative tasks and other activities related to the faculty member’s position;
III. uphold intellectual integrity and objectivity in the search for the truth;
IV. avoid discrimination against, harassment of, or imposing prejudicial treatment upon other faculty members, staff members, students, or participants because of ethnicity, religion, national origin, gender, country of citizenship, age, political beliefs, or status as a person with a disability;
V. uphold current university rules and regulations;
VI. comply with reasonable and appropriate instructions from the Head of the Department, the Dean, or other authorized university officer with respect to the timely performance of their essential duties;
VII. perform his/her responsibilities and obligations as teachers/researchers/scholars and members of the faculty;
VIII. use his/her time and efforts totally for the university; any work (teaching, training, consultation, supervision in whole or in part of a research, project, thesis and etc.) outside the university can only be performed after obtaining a written approval from the university administration based on an official letter from the relevant authority.

♦ Teaching

Faculty members are expected to:

I. meet with their regularly scheduled classes at the time specified on the teaching schedule;
II. engage in reasonable and substantial preparation for the teaching of courses that are assigned to them, using active learning strategies;
III. participate in assessment activities;
IV. maintain regular office hours for consultation with AAU students;
V. apply various teaching/learning strategies to meet student needs and to achieve the course objectives;
VI. utilize efficient teaching technologies.
VII. provide academic advising for the students
♦ Research
Each faculty member is expected to:
I. be involved in serious scientific research and the publishing of this research;
II. give priority to research that is related to the development plans of the country;
III. engage in interdisciplinary research;
IV. encourage and supervise research performed by students;
V. give constructive response to research performed by other faculty members;
VI. publish at least one research paper annually in Scopus indexed journal.

♦ Service to the University and Community Engagement
Each faculty member is expected to:
I. actively participate in the various committees to which s/he is assigned;
II. participate in extracurricular activities;
III. participate in the professional development activities of other faculty members and personnel;
IV. propose consultancy for community bodies and institutions other than AAU;
V. join professional associations;
VI. be actively involved in refereeing academic publications.

♦ Faculty Responsibilities
The university expects that all faculty members will conduct themselves in a responsible and professional manner on all matters relating to the academic life of the university. A few specific items of importance are mentioned below:

Class Meetings:
Each faculty member is expected to conduct class for the entire allotted time period. Classes meet for fifteen weeks. The sixteenth week is the final examination.

First Session of Class:
The first class session is an extremely important one, and instructors should be prepared to hold class for the full period even though their students do not have a previous assignment or textbook. During this first session, faculty should discuss the course syllabus, which includes an overview of the course, introduction to the textbook(s) that will be used, set forth the course requirements, explain their method of grading, discuss the term paper or research project mechanics and requirements, and suggest helpful outside readings. A class discussion topic or other exercise should be developed to get the course under way.

A faculty member must not allow students to attend his/her classes without officially enrolling for the course; this practice violates university regulations. Any student in your course who is not registered (not on the Student Registration List) must not be given any graded materials, such as quizzes, papers, or examinations. The student should immediately be referred to the Admission and Registration Unit.
Cancelation of Classes:
In the event the faculty member cannot meet a class because of a personal emergency, the faculty member must notify the relevant department or college. If you need to cancel a class for any other reason, please consult with your Department Head or College Dean and notify the students in advance (especially for evening courses). In any event, faculty members are responsible for making up all cancelled classes.

Faculty Student Relationship in the Classroom:
AAU promotes the relationship between a faculty member and a college student which is based on mutual trust and respect. The objective of AAU and its students is to achieve the best learning outcomes. When mutual respect is present in the classroom, the following expectations are fulfilled by both faculty members and students:

Faculty members are expected to:
- Demonstrate grip on the subject taught, attend class in prepared manner with materials and visuals designed by keeping all students needs in mind, including those with disabilities.
- Present each lecture with enthusiasm for the learning process and academic inquiry.
- Create an environment of collaborative learning, encouraging active participation rather than mere attendance.
- Foster true equity in class, respect students as individuals, considering a student’s learning style, background.
- Achieve consistent communication, whether it is related to setting high performance standards and communicating how to achieve them successfully or clearly stating standards for evaluating student work when assignments are given.
- Return student work or respond to student inquiries in a timely fashion.
- Respect office hours and be approachable by students as well as respond to student inquiries in timely fashion.
- Create an emotionally safe learning space by refrain from using language, humour, or course examples that may be inappropriate or insensitive.
- Make sure that the students respect university property. Any student who damages university property should be promptly reported to the College Management or Students’ Affairs Deanship.

Faculty members expect the students to:
- Attend each class and laboratory session with enthusiasm for the learning process and academic inquiry.

- Provide necessary time and effort required in each course and finish assignments in a timely fashion.
- Value consistent communication within classroom and communicate on time with faculty members to prevent an issue from becoming a problem.
- Respect the learning environment by minimizing distraction such as arriving late or reading other materials in class.
- Provide real/honest evaluations and recommendations for faculty member.
- Respect and value diversity in the classroom, refrain from using language that may be inappropriate or insensitive.

Class Rosters and Enrolment Verification:
At the beginning of the semester, please check the registration system so as to obtain the most current list of students registered in your class. Shortly after the end of registration for the semester (add-drop period), you will get an official registration list. This list should be checked carefully. Any students who have been attending class while their names are not on the list should be instructed to contact the Admission and Registration Unit. Faculty members should not return any graded academic exercise, such as papers, quizzes, or tests, to students whose names are not on the official registration list.

Students are expected to attend all class sessions for courses in which they are registered and are, of course, responsible for all the work covered. You may also include whatever penalties you think appropriate for late work. Your class attendance requirements must be clearly stated on your course syllabus. Students who do not attend class and hand in no work but do not officially withdraw must be assigned a grade of “F” (not “W” or “I”) at the end of the semester.

Course Syllabi:
You must provide your students with a syllabus (course description document) during the first week of class, preferably at the first meeting. While this requirement may seem obvious, students occasionally report never receiving a syllabus in a course. Having a syllabus helps students avoid any misunderstanding of your course requirements.

The syllabus should contain:
- course title and course code/number;
- credit hours (or equivalent);
- pre-requisites (if any) and co-requisites (if any);
- name and contact information of instructor(s);
V. brief course description (as in the Catalog);
VI. intended learning outcomes of the course;
VII. linkage and contribution of course learning outcomes to the program outcomes;
VIII. course topics and contents on a week-by-week basis, including sessions for assessments;
IX. scheduling of laboratory, studio, external visits and other non-lecture sessions, including online sessions, as appropriate;
X. information on out-of-class assignments with due dates for submission;
XI. methods and dates of examinations and other student assessments, including the relative weight of various assessment elements in determining the course grade;
XII. teaching methods, including any use of online instruction;
XIII. course texts and recommended readings listed in standard bibliographic detail, and any other learning resources.

Final Examinations:
Final Examinations must be given in the sixteenth week and may not be given earlier. Students have the right to review all graded academic exercises. There is a general expectation that all graded academic exercises are to be returned to students during the regular semester, with the exception of final examinations. It is recommended that final examinations be maintained by the instructor. The final examination papers will be stored for a period of twelve months after the completion of the term. Final examinations will not be given to students for review without the presence of a committee to review the paper. This committee will be appointed by the Dean.

Final Grades:
Using the registration system at the beginning of examination week, you will find a Final Grade list for each of your courses. Please follow the instructions for completing this list and return it signed to your College Dean within 48 hours after you have administered the final examination for the course. Only students who are officially registered for the course may receive a grade. If a student is not listed on your list but has been attending, do not write the student's name on the Final Grade list.

(3) ACADEMIC FREEDOM

Academic Freedom is the right of members of the academic community to study, discuss, investigate, teach, conduct research, and publish as appropriate to their respective roles and responsibilities. It is the policy and responsibility of AAU to ensure and protect these rights within the governing framework of the institution.

However, faculty members have an obligation to acquaint their students with the various scholarly views related to their subjects, and they are expected to be judicious in the use of controversial materials.
(4) PROFESSIONAL ETHICS FOR FACULTY

The statements hereunder define some areas of ethical conduct that govern faculty members' behavior towards students, colleagues, the University, and the community. These statements do not address every situation; rather, they aim at providing the faculty member with an overview of a general perspective on the code of ethics governing Al Ain University.

I. Compliance with AAU’s Rules and Regulations
All faculty members at AAU shall abide by the rules and regulations applicable at AAU. If the faculty member is uncertain about any issue, s/he may refer to the HR Manager, the Department Head, the College Dean, AAU Vice President, or AAU President.

II. Harassment or Discrimination
Al Ain University upholds the principle that all individuals have the right to be treated with respect and equality. Any harassment, discrimination, or prejudicial treatment towards students, other faculty members, or administrative staff on grounds of ethnicity, religion, national origin, gender, country of citizenship, age, or disability status undermines the AAU’s essential ethics and shall not be tolerated.

III. Conflict of Interest
Faculty members are obliged to avoid any situation where their personal interests conflict or could be interpreted as being in conflict, with those of AAU.

IV. Intellectual Property
Al Ain University advocates the ownership of intellectual material as stipulated by copyright laws. Faculty members have the obligation to comply with AAU’s Copyright Policy (see Section 5).

V. Confidentiality
Al Ain University prohibits any form of disclosure or dissemination of confidential information obtained during or after work with AAU. Faculty members shall treat as confidential any information or records conveyed to them on that basis.

VI. Neutrality
Faculty Members must refrain from any acts or practices that violate legislation, moral and ethical conduct, and the traditions and customs of the United Arab Emirates. They must also refrain from engaging/abusing the political opinions/activities or religious beliefs of others, whether in or out of the workplace.(by any means, in person or digitally)

(5) AAU GENERAL POLICIES

♦ Copyright Policy
Copyrighted work emphasizes AAU mission of contributing to the body of knowledge. AAU is committed to providing an environment that supports the research and teaching activities of its faculty, students, and staff. As a matter of principle and practice, AAU encourages faculty, students, and staff to engage in free expression, the exchange of ideas, and the development of original works of authorship. Accordingly, this Copyright Policy has been prepared. The intention of the Copyright Policy is to promote and encourage excellence and innovation in teaching and research by identifying and protecting the rights of the University employees.
This Policy emphasizes the main academic practice, which provides copyright ownership to faculty, students and staff for their copyrighted works which provides the University ownership of its employment-related works. The University Council has responsibility for all copyrights in which the University is involved.

Purpose and Scope
This statement sets forth the University’s Policy on the Copyright Ownership for work produced at AAU campuses. This Policy applies to University faculty, students, staff and other persons or entities using designated University facilities or acting under contract with the University for Commissioned Work.

Definitions
For the purpose of this Policy, the following definitions will be employed:

- Copyright
  Copyright is the intangible property right granted for an original work fixed in a tangible form of expression. Copyright provides creators of “original works of authorship” with an exclusive set of rights to copy, reproduce, distribute, and perform their works.

- Copyrightable
  Works include the following categories:
  I. Literary works, i.e., fiction, non-fiction, textbooks, biographies, and other scholarly works;
  II. Software;
  III. Motion pictures and other Audiovisual works;
  IV. Sound recordings.

- Not Copyrightable
  Facts cannot be copyrighted. Factual information is in the public domain; so an author can use facts, whether correct or incorrect. Copyright permission extends only to an author’s expression of facts and not the facts themselves.
  The following items or works are not copyrightable:
  I. Words and short phrases such as names, titles, and slogans;
  II. Familiar symbols or designs;
  III. Mere variations of typographic ornamentation, lettering, coloring;
  IV. Mere listing of ingredients or contents;
  V. Ideas, plans, methods, systems or devices;
  VI. Blank forms, account books, bank checks, diaries, graph paper, order forms, report forms, scorecards, and timecards.
√ Rights of the Copyright Owner
The copyright owner has the following basic rights:
I. reproduce the work
II. prepare derivative works
III. perform the work
IV. display the work
V. distribute the work

√ Fair Use
Fair use is the reason used by educators to copying for teaching purposes. Since AAU is a nonprofit organization and the copying is done to teach students, fair use is often used as an excuse for copying, rather than a well thought out reason for copying.

The following factors can be used to determine whether the copying is classified as fair use. All factors must be satisfied before copying any material. No factor is given more weight over another. However, while more emphasis is placed on the last factor, less importance is attached to the second factor.
I. The purpose for using copied work: Whether the copying is of a commercial nature or is for nonprofit educational purposes, the purpose for copying must fall into the categories of teaching or research.
II. The nature of the copied work: Copying news magazine articles (factual) is more likely to be allowed under fair use than copying a short story (creative).
III. The amount and the portion of copied work in relation to the work as a whole: Copying a large portion of a work or the essence of a work is considered an infringement.
IV. The effect of copying on the value of the copyright and its potential market: If the copying is not specifically prohibited, it may be allowed under fair use.

√ Designated Academic Appointees
These appointees are University employees who have a general obligation to produce scholarly/aesthetic works. Included are all appointees as faculty members and/or in professional research.

√ Independent Academic Effort
Inquiry, investigation, or research carried out by designated academic appointees to advance knowledge is determined by the designated academic appointee without direct assignment or supervision by the University. The general obligation of designated academic appointees to produce scholarly/aesthetic works is considered independent academic effort.
√ License
A contract in which a copyright owner grants to another permission to exercise one or more of the rights under copyright.

√ Originator(s)
One who produces a work on his/ her own. When there is more than one originator, the ownership of each originator’s contribution shall be considered separately pursuant to this Policy.

√ Permissible Consulting Activities
Professional or scholarly services provided by University employees for fees, which do not interfere with regular University duties, do not utilize University resources, and are not prohibited by terms of the University employment contract or other applicable University agreements or policies.

√ Royalties
A payment made to an owner of a copyright for the privilege of practicing in a copyright.

√ Sponsor
Sponsor is an individual, organization or agency which provides funding, equipment, or other support for the University or faculty member(s) to conduct research, training, or public service pursuant to a written agreement. Sponsors can be individual funds, government agencies, or private organizations.

√ University Facilities
Buildings, equipment, and other facilities under the control of the University, such facilities normally include campus computer centers and normally do not include University libraries.

√ University Funds
Funds available to the University and are administered under the control, responsibility, or authority of the University.

√ Scholarly/Aesthetic Work
A scholarly/aesthetic work is an independent work undertaken by a designated academic appointee. The academic appointee originator is entitled to the ownership of copyrights of scholarly/aesthetic works unless they are sponsored works or contracted facilities works, or unless the designated academic appointee agrees to participate in a project which has special provisions on copyright ownership.
√ Institutional Work
Except as otherwise provided in this Policy, AAU owns all copyrights to works carried out by AAU employees within their regular employment and owns all copyrights to works carried out with the use of AAU resources.

√ Personal Work
A personal work is a work that is obtained without the use of the University’s name and carried out outside the course and scope of University employment (except for permissible non-University consulting activities) without using University Resources. Hence, the originator will be owner of the copyright.

√ Student Work
A student work is a work produced by a student registered in the University without using University funds, other than student financial aid, that is produced outside any University employment, and is not a sponsored, contracted facilities, or commissioned work. Hence, the originator will be owner of the copyright.

√ Sponsored Work
A sponsored work is a work first produced by or through the University in the performance of a written agreement between the University and a sponsor. Sponsored works do not include journal articles, lectures, books or other copyrighted works created through independent academic effort and based on the findings of the sponsored project, unless the sponsored agreement states otherwise.

The University will have the ownership of copyrights to sponsored works unless the sponsored agreement states otherwise.

√ Commissioned Work
A commissioned work is a work produced for the University by individuals not employed by the AAU or by AAU employees outside their regular University employment. Copyright ownership shall be specified in a written agreement. Any such agreement which provides for ownership by other than the University, generally shall provide the University with a free-of-cost, nonexclusive, world-wide license to use and reproduce the copyrighted work for education and research purposes.

√ Contracted Facilities Work
A contracted facilities work is a work produced by individuals not employed by the AAU or by AAU employees outside their regular University employment, using designated University facilities in accordance with a written agreement. Ownership of copyrights to contracted facilities work is decided by the agreement signed between AAU and the individual(s).

Copyright Ownership of Joint Work
Copyright ownership of joint works is determined by assessing the category of work of each participant as mentioned in the previous section (D) together with the agreement between the authors.

Copyright Agreement and Notification
Copyright work undertaken by non University employees or university employees outside the University should be governed by a written agreement that specifies the nature of copyrighted work. A University employee undertaking work outside the University and using the University’s facilities should notify the University to secure an agreement. University employee(s) participating in a sponsored work must have an agreement with AAU that acknowledges individual(s) responsibility to carry out and deliver sponsored works to the sponsor, as required by the terms of contract signed with the sponsor and the University when needed. The agreement should also acknowledge copyright ownership of sponsored works.

A faculty member, staff, or student who participates in a University project that may have copyright ownership requirements other than that provided in Section (D) of this Policy must sign an agreement indicating his or her acceptance to the conditions associated with the project.

Relinquishing a University Copyright
The University may give up its ownership rights in copyrighted works to the originator(s) if this serves the best interest of University. Giving up the right should be contingent on the agreement with the related parties that the University is not part of the copyrighted work and no further effort on, or development of, the work will be made using University resources and that the University is granted a free-of-cost, nonexclusive, worldwide license to use and reproduce the work for education and research purposes.

AAU Logo:
A faculty member is refrained from using the university’s name or logo outside the scope of work without prior permission from the higher management of the university.

Licensing and Royalties
The University may assign or license its copyrights to others. Royalty or income received from such transactions may be shared with the originator(s) of such works according to an agreement.
Copyright Responsibilities and Administration
For copyrighted works, the Vice President is authorized to:

I. Issue guidelines, implementing procedures, and supplementary local policies consistent with the University Policy. These may include directives regarding licensure, disposition of royalty income, and other rights related to copyrights. Copies of such guidelines, policies and procedures shall be sent to the Board of Trustees.

II. Identify campus and other University facilities as having special copyright assignment obligations and issue guidelines and implementing procedures regarding assignment of copyright in works produced using such facilities or projects;

III. Register copyrights, accept copyrights from third parties, and sell, assign, or grant licenses in the name of The Board of Trustees for any rights to copyrights; and

IV. Give up University ownership rights to copyrighted works which are in the name of The Board of Trustees of the University.

AAU Library

Introduction:
As a non-profit and academic organization, AAU exists to advance knowledge through research, to disseminate knowledge through teaching, and to provide services to its community for continued learning. Therefore, reproductions of information resources made for patrons with university identification can be assumed to be for fair use and non-commercial purposes. The Library’s collections (both in Al Ain and Abu Dhabi campuses, henceforth ‘the Library’) contain scholarly materials intended for the academic community and as such are of a nature most appropriate to claims for fair use.

The Purpose of the AAU Library Policy
This policy is intended to serve as an in-house guide concerning the reproduction of library materials in Al Ain University Libraries, in accordance with the UAE federal Law No. (7) of the year 2002, concerning copyright and neighboring rights.

Liability of Library Employees
Unsupervised reproduction: Liability for copyright infringement may not be imposed on a library or its employees for unsupervised use of reproducing equipment located on its premises, provided that such equipment displays a notice that making copies may be subject to copyright law.

Supervised reproduction: Library units will review this policy and determine that they are not in violation of copyright law before requesting that copies be made. The Copy Services department will use this policy to review requests from other University departments and personnel.
♦ Copy Services
It shall be the responsibility of each AAU Library unit to review all photocopy requests for copyright compliance before submitting material to Copy Services. Therefore, library unit requests received by Copy Services will be assumed to be in compliance with Library’s copyright policy and will be filled accordingly.

Copy Services staff will consider AAU University patron requests for photocopies to be permissible as fair use, provided that the following criteria are met:
   I. The use is academic in nature, for non-profit, educational purposes;
   II. The purpose is to make material available for study at a university patron’s convenience;
   III. The request is for a single copy of one original, as opposed to multiple copies of the same original.

♦ Reserves
At the request of a faculty member, photocopies of articles or chapters of books may be placed on reserve. Under the guidelines of the UAE copyright law No. (7) of the year 2002, photocopies of these materials may be made without requiring permission from the copyright owner.

Material that has been photocopied by the Library for the express purpose of being put on reserve will be the property of the Library and will be retained for a specified period of time. If the material has not been requested during that time, it will be destroyed.

♦ Document Delivery
Al Ain University Library Circulation Departments adhere to the fair use guidelines in providing photocopies to AAU University community. In line with the guidelines, Circulation Departments will provide an individual member with one copy of any article(s) or chapter(s) needed from a publication.

♦ Inter-Library Loans
The AAU Library endeavor to provide maximum participation in the inter-library loan process for both AAU users and for other libraries that ask us to provide materials to fill their users’ requests. At the same time, the Library attempts to follow the guidelines mentioned in the UAE copyright law.

Borrowing: All requests for materials not available in the AAU University libraries should be referred directly to Circulation Department to determine whether such requests can be met. The Circulation Department will make every attempt to obtain material not owned by the AAU Library but needed by eligible AAU users without violating copyright law.
Lending: The AAU Library will respond to any request for a photocopy of an article as long as copyright compliance is indicated by the requesting library. We will assume that the requesting library is taking responsibility for both the nature and the amount of the material it is requesting.

In the case of requests for dissertations and theses written at the AAU University, the Circulation Departments will lend non-archival copies of these materials. If a requesting library wishes to purchase copies of dissertations or theses written at AAU University, the Circulation Departments will direct the requesting library to purchase the material from the University.

♦ Preservation
According to the UAE copyright law No. (7), libraries and archives are permitted to take a sole copy of a work for the purpose of preservation. The AAU University Library will observe the following conditions before reproducing library materials for preservation purposes:

I. The material comes from collections that are open to the public.
II. Reproduction is made with no purpose of commercial advantage.
III. Notice of copyright is included in the reproduction.
IV. For published works not in the public domain, a suitable replacement at a fair price will be sought, and reproduction undertaken only if an acceptable replacement is unavailable.

♦ Non-Printed Materials
The Library follows the general copyright policy for all non-book items except under the special circumstances noted below.

♦ Video/Film/Sound Recordings
Complete copyrighted works or substantial portions thereof will not be duplicated. If the material is out of print or no longer available at a fair price, duplication is allowed. Portions of commercially acquired copyrighted works may be copied for instructional purposes. The amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole must be considered in determining whether the use of the excerpt constitutes fair use. Excerpt tapes (Video/Audio) produced by the AAU University Library are the property of the AAU Library and must be returned after class use.

♦ Computer Software
The term ‘computer software’ applies to all software for microcomputers, minicomputers, or any other device, and includes the software documentation. The AAU University Library will make a back-up copy of any software it has purchased. The original then serves as the archive copy, while the back-up copy becomes the service copy.

♦ License Agreements

When a product acquired by the AAU University Library is accompanied by a license agreement (particularly when signatures are required), it should be clearly understood that the AAU University Library, in most instances, is not acquiring ownership of the material but are instead acquiring only the rights, as set forth in the terms of the license agreement, to use the product.

The terms set in license agreements are those of the publisher/distributor. The AAU Library are not required to accept these terms as stated but can instead negotiate mutually acceptable terms with the publisher/distributor. If a license agreement cannot be mutually agreed upon and the Library cannot abide by the terms set forth, the only option is not to acquire the product.

♦ AAU No Smoking Policy

AAU is committed to providing a smoke-free environment to protect the health and comfort of members of the university community from the adverse effects of tobacco smoke. This policy shall be implemented by the following rules and regulations, which may be changed from time to time.
Rules and Regulations

I. There shall be no smoking of tobacco products within any building or facility owned or operated by the University, except as provided below.

II. Smoking is permitted in the outdoor areas of the university premises.

III. While all other buildings and facilities on University property are smoke-free, it should be particularly noted, there shall be no smoking in:

  a. conference rooms, classrooms, laboratories or lecture halls; or in auditoriums;
  b. offices;
  c. libraries and bookstores;
  d. cafeterias and food and beverage service areas;
  e. storage or warehouse areas, and anywhere that hazardous substances are found;
  f. corridors, lobbies, entries or stairways;
  g. Sports or recreational areas.
(6) FACULTY RECRUITMENT, APPOINTMENT AND CONTRACT

The main goal of the staff involved in the recruitment process at AAU is to select and recruit qualified faculty members across various colleges, position them in appropriate roles that empower them to improve teaching efficacy, conduct scholarly research of high quality, and actively participate in meaningful community engagement initiatives.

AAU would attract and hire faculty members in different colleges from the world's most reputed and prestigious universities. For this purpose, the HR unit advertises job vacancies in different colleges through the AAU website as well as makes use of other electronic and social media to reach out to diverse prospective candidates.

AAU has a non-discriminatory recruitment policy concerning an applicant’s gender, race, religion, or physical disabilities. Selection criteria include the following:

- Academic performance, and the academic reputation of the institution that granted the degree held by the candidate;
- Proficiency in the field to be taught and the ability to integrate knowledge to related subject areas;
- Experience in teaching and the application of knowledge in the particular field of specialization;
- Published Research;
- Knowledge and understanding of the philosophy, goals, and objectives of AAU.

The academic vacancies within the colleges are filled through a hiring process implemented by the college recruitment committee. This committee, led by the college dean, includes representatives from all majors or programs pertinent to the vacancy within the college.

The recruitment process unfolds in the following manner:

- Recruitment advertisements clearly outline the essential qualifications, areas of teaching, research interests, rank, and application instructions according to the college requirements.
- Prospective candidates are urged to submit their application along with comprehensive curriculum vitae to the human resources unit of the AAU. The HR Unit compiles the received applications and forwards the application pool to the college dean.
• The college recruitment committee, assesses the pool of applications and short-lists the applicants by scrutinizing their academic and research credentials.
• In coordination with the human resources unit, the committee conducts interviews for the shortlisted candidates and presents recommendations of selected candidates to the (AAU Appointment and Promotion Committee) for final approval.
• Once the approval is received, the HR unit communicates appointment notifications to the selected candidates.

Types of Contracts:

♦ Full-time Faculty Members
The full-time faculty ranks are: instructor, assistant professor, associate professor and professor. Appointment to any rank is made according to regulations for recruitment. The duration of the faculty contracts is two years which is renewed, as a rolling contract. (provided the contract renewal conditions are met).

♦ Visiting Faculty Members
A visiting faculty member may be a distinguished faculty member who is on leave from another college or university, or from a comparable educational or research institution. Appointment to this rank is either on a semester-based contract or on an annual contract basis. A visiting faculty member can be a visiting professor, a visiting associate professor, or a visiting assistant professor. The same qualifications and procedures shall apply for visiting faculty members as per the initial requirements for full-time faculty ranks. Recommendations for the reappointment of a visiting faculty member shall be made by the relevant college recruitment committee to the (AAU Appointment and Promotion Committee) for final approval. A visiting faculty appointment may not be renewed for more than two consecutive years. A visiting faculty member is entitled to specific resources and access to specific facilities at the university as provided to the full-time faculty members.

♦ Part-Time Faculty Members
A part-time faculty member is one whose major employment is not with AAU and whose teaching load is 6 hours or less per semester. Part-time faculty members are entitled to the professional privileges accorded to full-time members. Part-time faculty appointments are subject to the university regulations as followed while recruiting full-time faculty members. The qualifications of a part-time faculty member are subject to the same criteria as a full-time faculty member. Recommendations for part-time faculty hiring shall be made by the relevant college recruitment committee to the (AAU Appointment and Promotion Committee) for final approval. The contract duration for this position is one semester and the compensation is made on a per-course basis taking into consideration the total hours of service provided. The ratio of part-time faculty members in each academic program should not exceed 25% of the total faculty members.

♦ 6. a. Faculty Workload

AAU faculty members should cover 40 hours, weekly, distributed as follows:

- Teaching (including project/dissertation/thesis/internship), per semester, a maximum of:

♦ 6. d. Faculty Orientation

Arriving at AAU
Newly-recruited faculty members are received by an AAU representative at the airport in the UAE (for example, Dubai or Abu Dhabi). Faculty members are thus advised to send the information about the date and time of arrival and flight number to the HR Unit as soon as this information is known.

A newly-recruited faculty member is entitled to six nights of accommodation at a hotel in Al Ain or Abu Dhabi. During the hotel stay, the new faculty member is expected to rent a residence and provide attested tenancy contract to HR unit. A furniture allowance is paid to the faculty member during the first two weeks of arrival so that the faculty member can buy furniture (for externally contracted staff only).

Furthermore, orientation is meant to provide newly-appointed faculty with an overview of the college and the curriculum while introducing the new faculty members to support services available on campus. Additionally, the evaluation, responsibilities and benefits of new faculty are conveyed to him/her. New faculty members are introduced at college and department meetings allowing for current faculty and staff to welcome its newest members.

During the first week of arrival, new faculty members are expected to complete the following:

I. Undergo a routine medical exam;
II. Apply for Emirates ID.
III. Open a bank account.

Cultural Adaptation
United Arab Emirates holds a diversified portfolio with successful achievements in various industries. This breathtaking oasis in the middle of the desert is a union of seven emirates namely, Abu Dhabi, Dubai, Sharjah, Ajman, Umm al-Quwain, R’as al-Khaimah and Fujairah. UAE came into being on 2nd December 1971. Apart from Arabic as its official language and Islam, the way of life, UAE welcomes people of varied nationalities to practice their cultures while respecting their boundaries.

Culture of the UAE: As UAE is an amalgam of people from many diversified cultures, the living environment of this country is adaptable, relatable and very comfortable for many expatriates. Although there is a freedom but UAE firmly holds deep-rooted beliefs in Islam and practices its teachings undisputedly. The primary goal of the rulers of this nation is to safeguard and promote the religion of Islam while accommodating economic growth.

UAE Demographics: United Arab Emirates occupies a total area of 83,600 km² and shares its border with KSA, Qatar and Oman. It has the seventh largest oil reserves in the world and it is very responsible in handling its environmental aspects. The UAE is an active leading country in the field of clean and renewable energy worldwide. Its immense efforts culminated by choosing Abu Dhabi to host the headquarters of the International Renewable Energy (Irena).

Climate: As the UAE is situated in the deserts of Middle East it faces the harshest summers around the globe. The summer season in UAE spans almost eight months with July and August having the extreme temperatures. Many indoor facilities and activities are organized with respect to the seasons and these are highly appreciated.

Education: In the field of education the UAE is successfully striving to match the standards of some of the best educational hubs in the world. The government invests heavily in ensuring that all the requirements are met.

Health: Health sector receives great attention as the UAE is determined to ensure the safety of all its residents. There are private hospitals and clinics. Health insurance is mandatory for all expatriates and their dependents. Under federal law, every Emirati and expatriate in the country will be covered by compulsory health insurance under a unified mandatory scheme.

Holy Month of Ramadan: Ramadan is a respectable holy month and it is observed with great zest and zeal. This month of fasting restricts all Muslims from eating, drinking and any other inappropriate dealings from dawn till sunset. In respect of the requirements of Ramadan most eating hangouts are closed in the daytime. Work hours are reduced during Ramadan usually to six hours a day.

Cultural Cuisine: Just as its culture the Emirati cuisine is also cosmopolitan. The influence of varying cultures has also impacted their cuisine therefore it appears as a blend of Middle Eastern and Asian cuisine. Emiratis retain their essence by welcoming guests with dates and gahwa (Arabic coffee). These are kept available through the guest’s visit. Pork is prohibited in Islam so it is ensured that it is not included in Arab menu while meat, fish and rice are the staple foods of the Emirati cuisine.

Sports: Football is the most popular sport. Emirati football clubs Al-Ain, Al-Wasl, Al-Shabbab ACD, Al-Sharjah, Al-Wahda, and Al-Ahli are the most popular teams and enjoy the reputation of long-time regional champions. Other popular sports include Cricket, Camel Racing, Falconry, Endurance Riding, and Tennis.

UAE Dressing: The UAE society follows its dress code strictly. Emirati men and women can easily be distinguished by their traditional dressings such as the Kandura and the women wear an Abaya. The dress code in Dubai is generally liberal however, as a mark of respect; it is advisable to abide by the following:

- For women: knees, shoulders and midriffs should be covered. No tight or revealing clothing should be worn.
- For men: not allowed to be bare chested, preferably long trousers with Shirt.
- Visitors are required to behave accordingly and to respect and abide the law.

General Behaviors towards men and women
- Most Arab and Muslim women don’t shake hands with men. If women offer to shake hands then it is appropriate to do so but the decision is left upon her.
- Greeting men and shaking hand with men is acceptable but any questions relating to their family should be avoided.
- Separate service areas are organized for women in banks, immigration and hospitals and men are not allowed to enter.
- Taking a photo with men and women is illegal, except if he/she agrees.

♦ 6. e. Probationary Period
The first six months of a faculty member’s employment at AAU are considered probationary.

♦ 6. f. Faculty Member Evaluation
- At the beginning of the fall semester, each faculty member receives a form that constitutes his/her annual plan of performance in the three areas of academic activity: teaching, research, and community engagement. The form specifies the components of each performance area and the rubrics by which they are evaluated. Faculty members submit their annual plan to the Department Head or Dean within two weeks from receiving the annual plan form.

- A month before the end of the academic year, faculty members are required to submit a record of their actual performance to the Department Head who conducts evaluation of the faculty member’s performance and submits it to the Dean for final assessment.
- Faculty members keep documented evidence of their academic performance in the Instructor’s Portfolio which should be continuously updated throughout each semester.
- During the academic year, faculty members are expected to be involved in the following activities: teaching, research, and university and community service. These activities reflect the faculty’s contribution to the department, college and university. The significance of faculty participation in each of the above mentioned activities may vary from one activity to another. The total contribution in all activities, however, will be used to assess faculty overall performance.
- The faculty evaluation reports are discussed, individually, with the College Management. The Dean sends a report to the university “Professional Development Unit” about the college needs for the process to guide the professional development of faculty.

Appeal Process
If the faculty is not satisfied with the evaluation result, he may appeal through the following process:

- Within 1 week of receiving his annual evaluation, a faculty member may appeal by asking the College Management in writing to reconsider the annual evaluation.
- Within 1 week of receiving the appeal, the College Management should review the annual evaluation, and either adjust the annual evaluation score(s) or provide written explanation of why they will remain unchanged.
- Within 1 week of receiving the college response, a faculty member may appeal his annual evaluation to the university “Faculty Appeals Committee”.
- Within 1 week, the committee should make a recommendation regarding the faculty member’s annual evaluation to the Deans Council.
- Within 1 week of receiving the committee’s recommendation, the Deans Council will either adjust the annual evaluation score or deny the appeal.

Contract Renewal
- The faculty member is evaluated by the students, Department Head, and College Dean. While students assess the faculty member’s teaching performance, evaluations written by the Department Head and the College Dean have a more comprehensive and detailed scope where they assess the faculty member’s teaching, research activities, university and community engagement, as well as serving at committees of different levels.
- Based on the overall performance evaluation for two years, AAU makes the decision whether or not to renew the staff member’s contract for the next two years. The forms & reports are included in the “Faculty Evaluation Policy” published on the institutional website.
6. g. Supervision and Organizational Issues Affecting Faculty Members

Al Ain University identifies the existence of several issues that may affect faculty members in different ways. These range from the organizational system to involvement in community engagement. AAU ensures that appropriate measures are put in place in order to overcome any possible challenges. These procedures ensure the high quality of education at AAU which is line with the standards and requirements of the UAE Commission of Academic Accreditation.

Organizational Structure: Al Ain University believes faculty members to be the cornerstone of the academic departments due to their direct relationship with the students who, in turn, are the cornerstone of the academic institution. Accordingly, AAU clearly defines the organization of sub-systems within each college. The transparency, clarity, and applicability of AAU’s organizational system ensure a smooth and continuous flow of information through all relevant channels. In addition, with administrative decisions affecting faculty members’ academic tasks, it is vital for faculty members to provide AAU’s administration with feedback. This will ensure making better, sound administrative decisions.

Coordination between Campuses: With campuses in Al Ain as well as Abu Dhabi, AAU faces another administrative challenge that affects faculty members: coordination between campuses. AAU’s organizational chart which includes a clear applicable structure that defines the link between campuses ensures bridging the gap that may come up between the two campuses making faculty members’ communication and coordination processes easier and more feasible.

Faculty Supervision of Students: Faculty members at AAU are expected to supervise students during their practicum as well as supervise graduation projects. These supervisory activities can enrich the faculty member’s experience on many levels such as providing them with feedback on the effectiveness of the programs and their delivery, offering them the opportunity to stay in touch with recent developments in their fields, as well as enhance their research capabilities.

University Supervision of Faculty Members: AAU is keen on providing high quality education and believes that proper supervision has a direct impact on the faculty member’s academic performance. Highly qualified supervisors are appointed with full awareness of their duties and responsibilities as well as full commitment to the work ethics. With administrative decisions affecting the performance of the faculty members, qualified supervision ensures the fulfillment of AAU’s vision and mission by faculty members through appropriate documentation of course and instructor portfolios in addition to record keeping.
Interaction with the Local, Regional, and International Community:
Al Ain University recognizes collaborating with academic and professional organizations and institutions at local, regional and international levels will positively impact the performance of the faculty in terms of augmenting their practice and supplementing the data available for their research activities.

♦ 6. h. Professional Development
The professional development of all faculty members is essential in the AAU’s quest for academic excellence. The active development of faculty members is needed to accomplish academic progress. Such development can be attained through active participation in activities such as the following:

I. workshops
II. seminars
III. research
IV. lectures
V. summer courses
VI. community activities
VII. conferences
VIII. novel applications of instructional technology
IX. innovative projects for curriculum development

Applying for a Professional Development Fund
The formal procedure for a faculty member to participate in any of these activities is as follows:

I. The faculty member submits an application to his/her department to get approval for the activity (see the relevant application form).
II. Approval from the College Council is also required before the faculty member receives final approval.
III. Approval from the University President.

Faculty Development Fund Proposal Guidelines

• General
The AAU Faculty Development Fund (FDF) is administered as a competitive grants program. FDF awards are designed to help faculty conduct their proposed project. Submissions are limited to one proposal per principal investigator (or co-principal investigator) per competition. Funding of eligible projects may be requested.
• Eligibility
A full-time faculty member may submit proposals, regardless of the number of previous FDF grants that they may have been awarded in the past, with the following restrictions applying:

I. An individual may not receive more than one grant in any one-year period and may not hold two FDF grants concurrently.

II. In order for an individual to receive subsequent FDF grants, the proposals must represent a significantly new project, and the reporting requirements for the prior award must have been met.

Although the focus of the program is on individual faculty development, two or more eligible faculty members may submit a collaborative proposal, with the following restrictions applying:

I. One participant must be designated as the project director, and that person may not reapply to this grant program for a one-year period after an award is given.

II. Other members of a group award may reapply within the one-year period, but priority will be given to faculty who have not received a previous award, either individually or as a member of a collaborative group.

III. A subsequent award will not be made to any member of a group award for work that is in any way related to the original project, even though a different faculty member is designated as the project director.

• Proposal Format
A complete proposal consists of the following four sections, in the order listed below. All figures and tables must be included in the eight-page proposal. Copies of surveys, tests, evaluation forms, or similar items, may be included as appendices, but are limited to five pages.

I. A ‘Cover Sheet’ containing a 100-200 word abstract of the project and the signature of the principal investigator’s Department Head.

II. ‘Project Description’ (not to exceed eight pages). The content of this section will vary, depending on the nature of the project and the academic field of the applicant. Typically, the description will include a discussion of the nature of the problem to be investigated and its significance; the results of preliminary investigations, if any; goals and objectives; methodology, project design, or activities; and literature cited or bibliography. Also include plans for continuation of the grant activity.

III. ‘Budget Amount and Budget Description’ of your budget needs.

IV. ‘Curriculum Vitae’ of a maximum length of two pages.

V. Proposals that are late, incomplete, or in an incorrect format will not be reviewed.
Participating in Scientific Conferences

First: Regulations for Conference Participation
I. The faculty member should have worked at AAU for at least one year.
II. AAU’s name to appear along with the faculty member’s name (researcher).
III. The faculty member needs to apply as a sole author for a paper, or to be the main researcher, which is accepted by the conference committee. In case the main researcher cannot attend, only the second author is allowed to participate provided a written approval from the main researcher is available.
IV. The faculty member needs to have published (accepted for publication) two research papers in scientific refereed journals during his/her course of work at AAU and carrying AAU’s name.
V. The faculty member who has finished one year of service at AAU needs to have published one research paper during his/her course of work at AAU and carrying AAU’s name.
VI. The research paper submitted to the conference must not have been presented at previous conferences or previously published in refereed journals.
VII. The subject of the paper needs to fall within the conference topics.
VIII. The faculty member cannot participate in an overseas conference (outside UAE) more than once in an academic year.
IX. The number of participants for a single conference cannot be more than two from the same academic department with priority given to date of acceptance of each paper.
X. The researcher should present a report on the conference proceedings and recommendations to the College Dean according to the applicable format.
XI. The application needs to be submitted two months before the conference.
XII. The conference must not be held during the final exams period.
XIII. The AAU President decides on cases and/or points not mentioned above.

Second: Required Documents for Conference Participation
I. Recommendation letter from the College Dean to the AAU President to sponsor the faculty member at the conference.
II. Recommendation letter from the Department Head to the College Dean to sponsor the faculty member at the conference in question.
III. An application from the faculty member to the Department Head requesting approval to participate in a scientific conference.
IV. Letter of acceptance from the conference to present the paper in the proceedings.
V. Information about the conference (Leaflet, etc.).
VI. The research paper to be presented at the conference.
VII. List of the papers published, or accepted for publication, written by the faculty member during his/her course of work at AAU, carrying AAU’s name (Form R4).
VIII. List of conferences in which the faculty member participated during his/her course of work at AAU, sponsored by AAU (Form R5).
IX. Registration fees receipt (if applicable).
X. Make up classes timetable duly signed by the faculty member, Department Head/Program Director, and College Dean.

Third: Expenses for Conference Participation
AAU covers the following expenses:
I. conference participation fees (if applicable);
II. a return ticket to the place of the conference (economy);
III. applicable per diems; 1000 AED per day for North America, Europe, Japan, South Korea, Australia, New Zealand, and Hong Kong; 800 AED per day for the rest of the world.
The maximum amount should not exceed 10000 AED for North America, Europe, Japan, South Korea, Australia, New Zealand, and Hong Kong, and it should not exceed 8000 AED for the rest of the world.

Scientific Research Support Fund (SRSF)

AAU has adopted the “Scientific Research Support Fund (SRSF)” as one of its key principle strategies to contribute to a productive society through the enhancement of Research and Development (R&D). The SRSF main goal is to fund scientific R&D projects of excellence -within and across all disciplines- that will build capacity, expertise and develop collaborative relationships for AAU researchers. This will definitely invest in the development of a highly skilled, highly productive, and competitive research community and enable AAU researchers to compete nationally and internationally for other competitive research funding.
6. i. Types of Leaves

I. Annual Leave:
Faculty members are entitled to a fifty-six-day annual leave which includes the summer leave as well as the winter break.

II. Maternity Leave:
1. The female worker shall be entitled to a maternity leave of (60) sixty days, according to the following:
   a. The first (45) forty-five days with full wage.
   b. (15) fifteen additional days right after maternity leave with half wage. (if needed).

III. Training Leave:
In support of its strategy for development, AAU encourages faculty members’ involvement in training. The duration of the leave depends on the nature, length, and location of training course.

IV. Bereavement(Emergency) leaves:
The bereavement leave is granted due to extenuating circumstances such as death of a first degree relative, as per below details:
   a. five days leave, in case of death of the husband or wife
   b. three days leave in case of death of the mother, father, son, brother, sister, grandson, grandfather or grandmother, starting from the date of death.

V. Hajj Leave:
Faculty members are granted a paid leave for one week for Hajj. The faculty member is entitled to Hajj leave once during his/her employment at AAU.

VI. Sick Leave:
In accordance with the provisions of the UAE Labor Law, AAU faculty members are granted a sick leave of no more than ninety days, consecutive or intermittent, for each year of service. The faculty member shall be required to submit a medical report issued by a hospital. The sick leave will be divided as follows:
   a) Fifteen days – Paid
   b) Thirty days – Half-paid
   c) The rest – Unpaid

All leaves, except for the annual and maternity leaves, are subject to the provisions of the substitute class schedule. All classes cancelled must be made up.
♦ 6. j. Administration of Grants Received
Al Ain University realizes the great responsibilities entailed with receiving a grant. Therefore, it takes all possible measures to ensure that the grant is utilized in accordance with the contract governing the agreement. In addition, the grant is to be administered in the method stipulated in the agreement. Faculty members and colleges involved with grants are required to prepare interim and end of project reports explaining the research conducted under the umbrella of the grant as well as proof of expenses.

♦ 6. k. Consultancy or Outside Employment
Faculty members at AAU are expected to dedicate their time and effort to their teaching and scholarly activities. AAU fosters the principles of community service and cooperation with professional and scholarly organizations. Nevertheless that engaging in consulting activities which are not in conflict with AAU’s interest is not prohibited, a faculty member who wishes to perform any form of outside work (teaching, training, consultation, supervision in whole or in part of a research, project, thesis and etc.), whether paid or unpaid, must obtain a written approval from the AAU President based on an official letter from the relevant authority prior to initiating that work or activity.
(7) BENEFITS AND RESTITUTION FOR DECEASED FACULTY MEMBERS

♦ Housing Allowance
The heirs of a deceased faculty member will not be asked to return to the university any housing allowances they have already received and made use of. However, should the heirs choose to terminate the contract with the landlord before it expires, then they are required to return to the university any money they may receive from the landlord.

♦ Furniture Allowance
The heirs of a deceased faculty member are entitled to the exemptions specified below:

I. 40% of the furniture allowance may be kept by the heirs, should the faculty member’s death occur during the first year of his/her service to the university
II. 70% of the furniture allowance may be kept, should the death occur during the second year
III. 90% of the furniture allowance may be kept, should death occur during the third year
IV. 100% of the furniture allowance may be kept, should death occur during the fourth year

♦ Transportation of the Deceased’s Remains
The university shall pay the expenses of transferring the remains of a deceased faculty member to the faculty member’s country of origin in addition to travel expenses of one person to accompany the remains.

The university shall pay for the return tickets of the faculty member’s surviving family members as per the terms of the contract.

The university shall honor all the deceased faculty member’s rights stated in the contract including the end of service benefits.

♦ Restitution
The family who survives a deceased faculty member are entitled to the following:

I. The salary for the whole month during which death occurred.
II. The faculty member’s heirs are entitled to a maximum restitution of three gross monthly salaries.
III. Should a faculty member be physically incapacitated and consequently his/her contract is terminated, the faculty member’s heirs are entitled to a restitution of three gross monthly salaries in addition to any other benefits stated in the employment contract.
(8) FACULTY PROMOTION POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

♦ Promotion Policies

AAU faculty members are promoted in accordance with the rules stated below which include performance in the areas of teaching, university and community engagement, and research.

The faculty member’s teaching performance is evaluated periodically by the students, Department Head, Deputy Dean, and College Dean. The faculty’s commitment to the syllabus, creativity, and innovative teaching methods plays a great role in the evaluation. Moreover, the services the faculty member renders to both the University and the community are monitored. The level of the involvement and the type of engagement contribute in the assessment. Finally, the faculty member’s scholarly activity remains the most important factor in the promotion process. A faculty member applying for promotion needs to meet the requirements of research and publication as set by AAU.

A faculty member shall only be entitled to apply for promotion after the passage of two years from his/her appointment as a full-time faculty member in AAU. Applications for promotion can be submitted during the first and second semesters. The college dean, in consultation with the academic department, should decide whether to proceed with the application within one month. Given that the committee decided to proceed with the application, the application should be forwarded to the University Appointment and Promotion Committee.

A faculty member applying for promotion needs to obtain a rating of at least (good) in both the teaching and community service evaluation reports prior to sending the papers to the external referees. All papers submitted as part of the application for promotion are to be sent to three external referees. In order for the applicant to be considered for promotion, he/she must receive:

- A “strong” recommendation from two out of the three referees to be promoted to Associate Professor.
- A “strong” recommendation from all three external referees to be promoted to Professor.

Promotion to the rank of associate professor

In order to be promoted to the rank of associate professor, the candidate must fulfill the following conditions:

I. He/she should have served a minimum of five years as a full time assistant professor at AAU or any other accredited college or university, provided that the last two years of his /her service are at AAU. The faculty member may apply for promotion after having served for four years and six months instead of five, provided he/she meets the other requirements.
II. Faculty members must submit a minimum of six scientific papers (Journals indexed in Scopus). At least four of which should have been “published”; while the rest can be “accepted” for publication.

III. All submitted publications must be within the faculty’s major and minor fields of specialization.

IV. Three of the published articles should be published in a first order journal as defined by the university.

V. The candidate should be the sole author (or first author) of at least three of the submitted journal article publications.

VI. At least four of the papers must be published, or accepted for publication, during the faculty's work at AAU with the University's name appearing on each of the papers.

VIII. Creative work in accordance with the rules set by the university council.

Any item of the above must not be taken from the candidate’s Master’s thesis, Doctoral dissertation, or the researcher’s previous publications.

* Scientific Research Incentives System

AAU has adopted a well-designed incentives system in order to encourage faculty members to continuously publish high quality researches in eminent journals. These incentives include a one time, monetary award for each publication in accordance with the rank of the journal.

Incentives are based on the quality and the rank of the journal according to the (cite score) applied in the university Scientific Research Incentives System. Therefore, the faculty members are encouraged to publish in first order journals indexed in outstanding databases (e.g Scopus, ISI, etc.) and / or issued by leading publisher like Elsevier, IEEE, Wiley, etc.
(9) JOB DESCRIPTION FOR FACULTY MEMBERS

♦ Summary of Position:
Faculty members at AAU are responsible for the planning, preparation, delivery, and coordination of courses. The minimum related activities required include teaching, academic advising, serving at college as well as university committees, engaging in community service, and participating in national, regional, and international professional organizations. In addition, the faculty member performs all other duties assigned by the Department Head, College Dean, Vice President, or President.

♦ Reporting:
A faculty member at AAU reports directly to the relevant Department Head.

♦ Major Responsibilities:
The major responsibilities of the faculty members at AAU include, but are not limited to, the following areas:
- Teaching
- Student advising
- Taking part in committees on different levels
- Involvement in community engagement
- Conducting research
- Joining professional associations
For a detailed list of duties and responsibilities, please refer to (Section 2).

♦ Transfers:
The assignment of academic staff aligns with their initial campus of recruitment. However, their services may be subject to temporary or permanent transfers between colleges or campuses. Temporary transfers refer to assignments spanning a semester, where the faculty member may carry a partial or full workload at the transferred campus. Permanent transfers refer to a complete relocation of the faculty member’s profile to the transferred campus.

Transfer Procedure:
The dean of the college identifies the necessity for faculty member transfers based on college requirements such as student needs and specialization requirements. The transfer request is then endorsed by the Appointment and Promotion Committee, following which the Human Resources Unit is notified to facilitate the transfer formalities.
Impact of Transfers:

Permanent Transfers: Housing allowances for staff members are adjusted according to the new campus. However, other aspects of remuneration remain consistent and identical across both campuses.

Temporary Transfers: In case a temporary transfer takes place, AAU facilitates on below aspects:

- Travel Expense: AAU provides transportation between campuses and compensation for travel expenses such as fuel is covered by AAU in case if transportation is not provided.
- Use of Facilities: Access to office space, administrative support, and other necessary facilities at the second campus to ensure the staff member can work efficiently while away from their home campus.
- Technology Support: Provision of necessary technology and support to facilitate remote work and communication between campuses.
- Health and Safety Support: Assurance of health and safety measures, including emergency support and healthcare access at the second campus.
- Additional Benefits: Depending on the specific arrangements, other benefits such as parking permits, library access, etc.

♦ Performance Evaluation:
Faculty members are evaluated annually on the basis of academic activities (teaching, academic advising, participation in committees), scientific research and community engagement. The Faculty Member Evaluation section details the criteria and procedure for performance evaluation (Refer to Section 6.f.).

♦ Qualifications:
The qualifications for faculty members shall be in accordance with the applicable requirements specified by the AAU which are in line with the standards and regulations of the Commission of Academic Accreditation (Refer to Section 6.c.).
(10) QUALIFICATIONS FOR PART-TIME FACULTY

In support of its mission to providing quality education, and in line with its policies which stipulate recruiting top faculty members, Al Ain University applies the same recruiting policies to part-timers as those for full time faculty members. Part-time faculty members joining AAU are required to hold the same qualifications as the full time faculty members. They are also expected to present the same documents:
- an updated, detailed CV;
- copies of the Doctoral, Masters, and Bachelor degrees;
- copies of the transcript for the Doctoral, Masters, and Bachelor degrees;
- certificate equivalence.

(11) COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS

AAU adopts its own system of compensation and benefits which is mainly based on the faculty members’ academic ranks: Professor, Associate Professor, Assistant Professor, and Instructor. In addition, the University looks into the rarity of the specialization and the faculty member’s experience. It also takes into consideration any distinguished accomplishments the faculty member may have achieved. In case if the faculty member is assigned an administrative position, an admin allowance is paid in addition to the salary; which is based on the period of administrative services rendered and excluded from the end of service benefit. Notwithstanding the compensation system, AAU gives special attention to incentives. Faculty members are encouraged to engage in scientific research and apply for promotion which will reflect on their financial status.

The academic compensation & benefits consist of the following:

Monthly Salary:
Monthly salary is paid once a month for twelve months in the year. Salary is transferred to the bank account of the faculty members before the end of every month, salary details are sent to the Wages Protection System of MOHRE where the salary of each employee is pre-registered.

Housing Allowance:
Housing allowance is paid to the faculty members bi-annually, half payment in the first semester and the other half payment in the second semester of every academic year.
Furniture Allowance:
One-time payment right after joining for the expat faculty members who have joined AAU from outside the UAE.

Education Allowance:
Education Allowance is paid to the faculty members bi-annually, with half payment in the first semester and the other half payment in the second semester of every academic year as per AAU policy.

Health Insurance Coverage:
Health Insurance for faculty members, spouse and three children (Residents of UAE & Less than age of 18 Years old) is provided by AAU.

Air Fare:
Faculty member, spouse and three children (Residents of UAE and less than age of 18 Years old) are entitled to receive a one-way ticket at the time of joining and leaving AAU. They are entitled for round trip air ticket reimbursement during the summer vacation for every completed year as stipulated in the employment contract.

(12) FACULTY OVERLOAD

Faculty members must not routinely or persistently be assigned teaching loads in excess of the allowed limits. In exceptional circumstances where teaching assignments in excess of the limits (overloads) are unavoidable, the overload is limited to one three-credit course per faculty member per year, and faculty must be compensated.

(13) SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

Teaching during the summer is optional for faculty members at AAU. Faculty members can choose whether or not to teach in the summer. A faculty member who decides to teach in the summer can teach up to six credit hours.

It is noteworthy that teaching in the summer is considered overtime where the faculty member receives remuneration per credit hour for the hours he/she teaches in addition to his/her regular monthly salary for those weeks.
(14) DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES AND APPEALS

AAU is committed to professional honesty and integrity, and it also recognizes the need for fair and adequate investigation of alleged violations of rules and policies relating to the conduct of AAU faculty members.

♦ Discipline
Discipline means any sanction except dismissal that may be imposed by the administration against a faculty member for misconduct. Sanctions may extend from mild to severe and from informal to formal. In cases of employment offenses or misconduct, a range of sanctions/measures short of dismissal should be available. This range of sanctions from minor to major constitutes progressive discipline. However, the imposition of any sanction must be regarded as a serious disciplinary step and even a first offense may warrant the most extreme penalty.

Any sanctions/measures that are imposed by the university must be selected to meet the severity, the frequency, and/or flagrant nature of the infraction. Appropriate sanctions may include:

I. an oral reprimand
II. a written reprimand
III. reassignment to other duties
IV. restitution
V. placement of the faculty member under the direct supervision of the Head/Dean with a specific plan for remediation, for a specific period of time
VI. loss of summer teaching employment for a faculty member on a contract of less than twelve months
VII. loss of perquisites or of privileges of rank for a stated period, not to exceed two years
VIII. reduction in contract period
IX. dismissal

♦ Misconduct
Misconduct may include the following:

I. neglect of duty or responsibilities, including unauthorized absence, which impairs teaching, research or other normal and expected services to the university
II. failure to perform the terms of employment for reasons other than documented illness or injury
III. willful violation of the rules and regulations of the university
IV. violation of the ethics of the academic profession
V. action(s) that results in preventing other members of the university community from fulfilling their responsibilities, or actions that create a clear and direct danger to members of the university community

VI. conduct, professional or personal, involving moral turpitude

♦ Disciplinary procedures
The following procedures must be followed when a faculty member is alleged to have committed an employment offense or misconduct. If, however, the Head regards the alleged employment offense or misconduct as one that warrants only an oral reprimand, the Head may follow these procedures at his/her discretion.

The procedures listed below are to be followed in sequence:

I. The Head notifies the Dean in writing of the alleged offense or misconduct. This notification includes the policies/procedures which may have been violated, with supporting evidence.

II. The Dean notifies the University President. This notification includes the policies/procedures which may have been violated with supporting evidence.

III. The Head, Dean, and University President consult the legal advisor of the university, who verifies all the facts related to the alleged offense or misconduct.

IV. The Head notifies the faculty member in writing of the alleged offense or misconduct, clearly identifying the policies/procedures which may have been violated with supporting evidence.

V. The faculty member is given an opportunity to respond both orally and in writing to the allegations and to any evidence prior to any determination of culpability.

VI. If the faculty member chooses to respond, the response must normally be made within ten working days to the Head.

VII. The Head reviews the faculty member’s response (if any was made), his/her past performance- and employment record, as well as any additional information prior to determining if a sanction is warranted.

VIII. Normally, within ten working days after receiving the faculty member’s response, the Head notifies the Dean of the response and includes his/her recommendations regarding the alleged offense or misconduct. If warranted, the Head’s recommendation may include an appropriate sanction. Resolution of the matter may occur at this point.

IX. The Dean consults with the University President and the university’s legal advisor, then notifies the faculty member and the Head of the sanction (if any) to be imposed. Notification is normally given within fifteen (15) working days.

X. The faculty member is given ten days to respond both orally and in writing to the Dean before any sanction(s) becomes effective. The response should indicate any intention to appeal the recommended sanction(s) to the grievance committee.

When a Department Head is alleged to have committed an employment offense or misconduct, the Dean will follow the above procedures fulfilling the Head’s duties and University President will act in the Dean’s role.

When a Dean is alleged to have committed an employment offense or misconduct, the University President will follow the above procedures fulfilling the both the Department Head’s duties and the Dean’s roles.

Depending upon the severity of the alleged offense or misconduct, the University President or the President’s designee may immediately place a faculty member on leave with pay, pending an investigation of alleged misconduct or other employment offense. The leave pending investigation shall commence immediately upon the University President or designee providing the faculty member with a written notice of the reasons. The leave shall be with pay, with no reduction of accrued leave.

If, as a result of the investigation, the faculty member is to be suspended or his/her contract terminated, written notice shall be given to the faculty member. In all cases, the faculty member will be given an opportunity to respond within ten working days before any sanction(s) become(s) effective. The response may be made both orally and in writing to all allegations and evidence.

♦ Appeal of Recommended Sanctions
A faculty member may appeal the Dean’s recommended sanctions to the Grievance Committee. Resolution of the matter may occur at this point and the committee may recommend acceptance, modification, or rejection of the findings and/or sanctions.

♦ Faculty Grievance Procedures
Grievances by a faculty member against the university or its employees are governed by this procedure. A faculty member should first work informally with administrators (the University President, Deans, and Department Heads) to resolve the matter. Experience indicates that almost all cases can be resolved informally. The process should reflect mutual trust, respect, collegiality, and cooperation.
The grievances governed by this procedure may include the following:
   I. unlawful discrimination on the basis of age, religion, race, or national origin
   II. salaries
   III. resource support
   IV. teaching assignments
   V. office assignments
   VI. leave of absence applications

♦ Discipline against a Faculty Member Short of Contract Termination

Informal Procedure
A faculty member shall first attempt to resolve the grievance informally with the person whose action is the basis for the grievance. However, if in the faculty member’s sole discretion it is not practical to do that, the faculty member shall first attempt to resolve the grievance informally with that person’s immediate superior.

Formal Procedure
If the informal procedure does not resolve the grievance, the faculty member may initiate the formal grievance procedure. To do so, the faculty member must submit a written grievance statement to the immediate superior of the person whose action is the basis for the grievance, within 20 days. The grievance statement must include the following:
   I. a concise statement of the grievance
   II. a description of actions taken so far to resolve the grievance
   III. a description of the responses received
   IV. a proposed resolution of the grievance

Upon receiving the grievance statement, the administrator will take the steps he/she deems necessary to investigate and resolve the grievance. The administrator will then give the faculty member a written decision, within a period of ten days.

♦ Appeals
The faculty member may appeal a department Head’s decision to the Dean. The faculty member may appeal a Dean’s decision (whether an original decision or an appellate decision) to the University President. The faculty member must submit any appeal in writing within two weeks after receiving the decision. Upon receiving the appeal, the administrator will take the steps he/she deems necessary to investigate and resolve the grievance. The administrator will then give the faculty member a written decision, within a period of two weeks.
♦ Confidentiality
Sensitive information disclosed in the proceedings should be kept confidential. Except for simple announcements about the status of the proceedings and similar matters, both the university and the concerned faculty member(s) shall avoid making public statements about the case until the proceedings have been completed.

♦ Exhaustion of Remedies
A faculty member shall not initiate civil litigation or civil administrative remedies against the university or its employees until all the remedies provided by this procedure have been exhausted.

♦ Non-Retaliation
Retaliation by the university or its employees against a faculty member for seeking redress through this procedure is prohibited, and is a separate cause for grievance.

♦ Resignation
Notice of resignation must be made at least three months before the end of the academic year or the contract end. If a faculty member fails to submit his/her resignation within the period stated above, he/she shall pay to the university one month and half of his/her total salary based on recent salary paid.

A faculty member who resigns from the University while under contract must do so in writing to the Dean of the college via the department Head. In all cases, a letter of resignation should be forwarded to the Dean’s office. The Dean’s office should then forward the resignation letter to the Vice President and to the Human Resources.

♦ Termination of a Contract
Termination or dismissal from the University shall be only for a cause. The cause may be one or more of the following:
   I. unsatisfactory performance
   II. under recommendation of the Disciplinary Committee for serious misconduct
   III. prolonged inability to fulfill his/her duties for medical reasons
   IV. reduction in academic staff caused by:
      a. financial exigency
      b. discontinuance
      c. reduction in the size of the program

In such a case, the faculty member will receive notice of the termination of his/her contract at least three months before the end of his/her contract or before the end of the academic year.
(15) GRADUATE ASSISTANTS
Al Ain University offers several graduate programs. AAU encourages full time graduate students to apply for teaching assistant positions. As teaching assistants, they will assist some faculty members with several tasks including course preparation, grading, record keeping, and collecting data for research; in turn, the teaching assistants receive financial aid.
