

May 01, 2012

AAU at Al Ain Education and Career Fair 2012

Al Ain University of Science and Technology concluded its participation in Al Ain Education and Career Fair 2012 held at Al Ain Convention Center under at the patronage of His Excellency Sheikh Nahyan Bin Mubarak Al Nahyan, Minister of Higher Education and Scientific Research.

Through participating in the fair, AAU aims at opening channels of communication between students and parents on one side and AAU on the other. At the pavilion, AAU addressed all queries and questions by visitors and parents.

Al Ain Education and Career Fair is a great chance for students to get to know the university's programs. AAU offers different programs within its five colleges: the college of Engineering and Information Technology, the college of Pharmacy, the college of Law, the college of Education, and the college of Business Administration. In addition, AAU offers two graduate programs; MBA, and the Professional Diploma in Teaching. The fair has also provided a suitable occasion to introduce students to the new programs to be offered at AAU in the near future.

On his part, Professor Ghaleb El Refae, AAU President, underlined that participating at the fair is a valuable opportunity to meet students, parents, educational institutions, and government entities to exchange information and experience.

Prof. El Refae reiterated that AAU continuously cooperates with the public and private sectors to identify the needs of the job market in order to provide the market with qualified cadres.

He concluded saying that AAU has taken upon itself the responsibility of supporting distinguished students and encouraging them to maintain their level of performance so as to effectively contribute to the prosperity of the community.

Press Release Link