A Workshop Entitled "The Arab Environment Day" in Al Ain University

The Deanship of Students Affairs at Al Ain University of Science and Technology, based in Abu Dhabi, organized a workshop themed "The Arab Environment Day" with Mrs. Siham Qurah, Science and Life course instructor, which cries for better health by creating a tidy environment. The workshop was attended by Mr. Ahmad Sultan Al Nuaimi, one of the beginners of the Friends of the Environment Association, and members of the academic and administrative bodies and a routine of university scholars.

Mrs. Siham Qurah spoke about the concept of environment components, the bugs and the phenomena that led to the contamination of the surroundings such as global warming, acid rainfall and the ozone hole. The speech also included a guide to environmental behavior to reach a balanced relationship between a human and the environment.

The workshop also included some plants to illustrate to the attendees the importance of agribusiness in the combat against environmental contamination, as well as an entry on some merchandise produced from waste, which were of the students' conceptions.
