A Lecture Entitled "The Consumer between investment and savings"

The Deanship of Student Affairs, based in Abu Dhabi, in cooperation with the Ministry of Economy, organized a lecture entitled "The Consumer who falls between Investment and Savings". It was presented by Dr Hasan Yassin, who started off the lecture by speaking at the Consumer Protection Department and the roles of the Ministry of Economy and the Higher Committee for Consumer Protection. He even recommended that there should be other independent lecture upon this topic.

The doctor presented a breakdown of investment in financial markets starting with the definition of the public joint stock company, the roles of the financial market and the securities. He also talked about the commodities brokers and corporate public offerings, features and challenges of transformation of public joint stock companies and financial market indicators, wrapping up the lecture with tips about investing in financial markets.
