

May 13, 2015

AAU Book Fair

To spread legal literacy and the curriculum for law students inside and outside the university, the Deanship of Students Affairs at Al Ain University of Science and Technology, based in Al Ain city, in cooperation with the College of Law, has organized a book fair related to legal issues and law. It has lasted for three days in an effort to raise awareness of the community, and easily access the competent reader book. The purpose behind this book fair is to increase the community's culture and the dissemination of system behavior, thought, and intellectual culture, especially in legal matters, which contribute significantly to attract researchers and graduate students.

Press Release Link