

Aug 24, 2017

AAU MBA students visit “Borouge” Innovation Center

A Delegation of MBA students from Al Ain University of Science and Technology visited “Borouge” Innovation Center, to get updated on the latest technologies and applications that promote innovation in plastics manufacturing processes.

The visit comes to introduce students to the innovative concepts and linking scientific content with practical fields.

Dr. Ahmad Ghandour, stressed on the main objective of this academic visit in sharing the knowledge that contributes to the development of the research of the students from the Master of Business Administration, He also said: ““We are delighted to cooperate with “Borouge Innovation Center”, one of the leading research and development centers in the UAE.

The MBA students praised the positive impact of the visit on their knowledge, Which will contribute to the creation of creative energy that they can benefit from in the future.

Press Release Link