AAU organized a workshop on planning for life

The College of Business at Al Ain University of Science and Technology, Abu Dhabi Campus, organized a workshop entitled “How to plan your life and take the right decision” in collaboration with the Deanship of Student Affairs, presented by Dr. Faeq Khanfar, Assistant professor at the College of Business.

The workshop aims to guide students in determining their goals and making the appropriate decision regarding their university’s majors by following specific theories and models that contribute to enhance their skills. The lecturer advised students to think carefully before taking any decision which may have a negative effect.
