

Nov 09, 2020

Education students discuss the psychological importance in artificial intelligence

Student Fatima Al Sraira and student Saeeda Yousef from Arts in Applied Psychology program at Al Ain University, Abu Dhabi campus, presented a virtual lecture for the students of Um Al Arab government school about the artificial intelligence and the psychological aspect, in the presence of the parents and teachers.

The lecture discussed several aspects; The importance of applied psychology specialization and its impact on artificial intelligence, the importance of harnessing artificial intelligence for the benefit of the needs of people of determination, such as virtual arms, electronic bracelet and smart facilities.

Press Release Link